

FIVE YEARS ON: WHAT NEXT FOR THE FINANCIAL REFORM AGENDA?

Assessing delivery of the international financial reform agenda /
Towards a vision of a financial system that serves society

Brussels, 7 November 2013

Finance Watch

Making finance serve society

10.00-11.15

SESSION 1 – BANKING: MISSION ACCOMPLISHED?

Keynote speeches

- Alain Deckers, Head of Unit, Banks and Financial Conglomerates II, DG MARKT
- Adrian Blundell-Wignall, Special Advisor to the Secretary-General on Financial Markets, OECD

Discussion moderated by Peter Spiegel, Financial Times

11.45-13.00

SESSION 2

DERIVATIVES: DO WE NEED A $ 700 TRILLION MARKET?

Panel discussion

- Jennifer Robertson, Deputy Head of Unit, Financial Market Infrastructure, DG MARKT
- Richard Raeburn, Chairman, European Association of Corporate Treasurers
- John E. Parsons, Senior Lecturer, Sloan School of Management, MIT
- Thierry Philipponnat, Secretary General, Finance Watch

Discussion moderated by Dennis Kelleher, President and CEO, Better Markets

14.30-15.30

SESSION 3

PURPOSE: A FINANCIAL SYSTEM TO SERVE SOCIETY

Keynote speech

Sheila Bair, Chair, Systemic Risk Council; former FDIC Chair

Discussion and audience Q&A, moderated by

David Shirreff, The Economist

16.00-17.30

SESSION 4

ACCOUNTABILITY: DEMOCRATISING THE REFORM PROCESS

Panel discussion

- Sharon Bowles, MEP, Chair of the European Parliament's ECON Committee
- Robert Jenkins, former member of the Bank of England's Financial Policy Committee
- Professor Walter Mattli, Exective Director, Department of Politics and International Relations, Oxford University
- Simon Lewis, CEO, AFME

Discussion moderated by Robert Kuttner, The American Prospect

Thank you for attending our conference.

The conference materials will shortly be available at www.finance-watch.org

This conference was partly funded by

Hans Böckler
Stiftung 